Play, Play, and Play Some More
The best way to support children's learning in the early years is to provide hands-on, active learning experiences that include play activities. Play enables children to weave together past knowledge and new information to acquire new understanding and skill development. Play sequences and activities expand across all Key Areas of Learning and can build social, cognitive, and physical skill development when they are intentionally planned and facilitated by teachers who interact with children, asking open-ended questions to scaffold children's thinking and problem-solving.
